NEW CAMPUS LANDMARK

Campus development always promises change and improvement, but who would have guessed that the construction of the new Learning Center would also create Gallaudet's new wonder of the world? We propose that this new wonder be known henceforth as Mt. Gallaudet.

SSS SERVICE DESK

A new SSS Service Desk was initiated this summer to enable physically disabled students to more effectively use the facilities in the SUB basement. Located across from the SUL, the Service Desk is manned by SSS student aides who will run errands to the bookstore, Post Office, Bank, vending machines and Rathskellar for students unable to negotiate the stairs. Student Special Services hopes this will make the inaccessible basement a little more accessible.

ALSO

Student Special Services is pleased to announce that one of their portable Visualtek TV reading machines is now available on a sign out basis in Dr. Schuchman's office. Any visually impaired student wishing to use this machine can sign it out and bring it to class with him/her. Faculty members may wish to encourage such students to take advantage of this opportunity.

GIVE-AWAY

Free to good home-- female cat, declawed, slightly less than one year old. She is friendly... just not accepted by the owner's other cat. If interested contact Mary Anne Pugin, 757 or 480 (TTY).

NEED PART-TIME HELP????

William Haig, the new placement counselor in the Counseling and Placement Center, will be handling the part-time jobs for students this fall and would appreciate being contacted by departments concerning possible openings. Each student who is looking for part-time work will be processed through the Counseling and Placement Center office.

You can contact William Haig by calling ext. 425.

WELCOME TO NEW STAFF MEMBERS

This month Sign Language Programs added three new members to their department. Betty Colonomos is coordinator of the National Interpreter Training Consortium, Gallaudet region, replacing Rita Domingue, who left on a year's leave of absence. John Reiman, a new faculty member, will be training students in the new Associate of Arts degree program starting this fall. Also starting this month will be Mike Woodford, who will be stepping in as the new Sign Language Assistant for the department.

Best wishes to them -- welcome aboard!

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE SERVICES OFFERED

Recently, the Department of Administration, in conjunction with the Graduate School, has initiated a system of Technical Assistance Services (TAS) for programs and personnel who work with the hearing impaired and other special education populations. This service is administered by the Department of Administration and coordinated by Dr. Boris Bogatz. It is the intent of the Service to provide assistance on an on-call basis both to Gallaudet College units and agencies external to Gallaudet College.

For more information on TAS contact
Dr. Bogatz at ext. 441 or 442 (TTY/voice).

OPEN HOUSE AT WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL

The twelfth annual Open House will be celebrated at Washington Cathedral on Saturday, September 30 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The theme for the day is "Make a joyful noise," and festivities will culminate in a 4 p.m. musical program. Featured will be the Cathedral Choir of Boys and Men, the Cathedral Choral Society, St. Andrews Pipers and Drummers and the great organ.

Open House day is the only time of the year when the Washington community is invited to climb the great central tower of the cathedral, the highest point in Washington, and see not only the cathedral's carillon and peal bells but also the view of the countryside and city for miles around. Admission to the tower climb is by ticket issued on the day and is limited to persons nine years of age and older. It is a strenuous tour and is not recommended for those with any physical problems.

The cathedral will open at 10 a.m. and general tours will begin then; the last tour will begin at 3:15 p.m., to finish in time for the 4 p.m. event. Guided tours are offered every day at the Washington Cathedral by the trained cathedral aides.

Plan to bring a picnic lunch and enjoy the many events scheduled. For further information call 966-3500.

AMONG OURSELVES

--Stephen Luke, a graduate of Gallaudet, has been assigned to the Lutheran Chaplain's Office on campus to work for one year as a student/intern. He is attending Concordia Theological Seminary in St. Louis. He will spend one year on campus as part of his training to become a Lutheran pastor.

--Della and Max Fitz-Gerald participated in a project this summer at the Riverside School for the Deaf to develop a sex education curriculum for the multiply handicapped deaf.
